Spartan Motors Reports Additional Order for the Reach

August 2, 2012

CHARLOTTE, Mich., Aug. 2, 2012 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Spartan Motors, Inc. (Nasdaq:SPAR) ("Spartan" or the "Company") today reported that its Utilimaster subsidiary has received an additional order for its revolutionary Reach walk-in van. Demand with major fleets continues to be positive as UPS (NYSE:UPS) announced an additional order for 150 new vehicles.

"The attractive value proposition offered by the Reach is highlighted by this additional order from UPS. This represents an important milestone as we work to realize the long-term opportunities for Reach. As UPS has demonstrated with the Reach, it is possible to achieve improved vehicle performance while meeting a number of green/sustainability goals," said John Forbes, President of Utilimaster.

The Reach offers several advantages over a traditional walk-in van, including greater maneuverability, improved ingress and egress, nearly 1000 lbs. lower weight and improved fuel efficiency of up to 40% through the use of advanced, lightweight composites/recycled materials, all combined with great looks.

Spartan recently transferred production of the Reach from Utilimaster's Wakarusa, Indiana facility to Spartan's Charlotte, Michigan campus, as previously announced. The Company has set up a dedicated production facility within the Charlotte campus where the where it also manufactures the gasoline-powered Isuzu NPR and NPR-HD, America's # 1 selling Low Cab Forward Truck.
