Utilimaster Showcases Its Depth In Parcel Delivery Fleet Design At Contractor Expo In Nashville

September 18, 2019

CHARLOTTE, Mich., Sept. 18, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Spartan Fleet Vehicles and Services ("Spartan"), a business unit of Spartan Motors, Inc. (NASDAQ: SPAR) which goes to market under the Utilimaster™ and Strobes-R-Us™ go-to-market brands, provided FedEx Ground contractors with a deep dive into its Work-Driven Design™ parcel fleet solutions at the Contractor Expo held in Nashville, Tennessee, on Friday, September 13. Utilimaster served as a Platinum sponsor for the event, and its commercial dealer channel's client development managers were onsite to provide attendees with information on Utilimaster's walk-in van, truck body, and cargo van upfit commercial delivery designs.

The Contractor Expo offers FedEx Ground contractors the opportunity to meet and network with hundreds of other parcel contractors from across the U.S. and Canada. Utilimaster provides these last mile delivery fleet contractors with a one-stop-shop for vehicle designs and fleet upfit options that span GWVR classes 1-7.

"The last mile delivery business continues to expand in parallel with ecommerce growth, and with that comes a need for reliable, quality fleet vehicles," said Chad Heminover, President, Spartan Fleet Vehicles and Services. "We're proud to serve FedEx Ground contractors around the nation with vehicle designs that promote quick home delivery services. We have positioned Utilimaster as a one-stop shop for walk-in vans, truck bodies, and cargo van upfits, and in so doing, paved the way for continued growth in this expanding segment."

Utilimaster's Work-Driven Design process provides a personalized design and engineering approach, which begins with an in-depth analysis of how drivers meet the needs of their customers, including ride-along tours with drivers, ergonomics assessments, telematics studies, and countless conversations that ensure all needs are met and expectations exceeded, from the ground up.
